The information according sentence one shall first be provided separately for the margin purchases and for the short sales.

Chapter Two.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS WHICH MAY SERVE AS COLLETRAL ON MARGIN PURCHASES AND SHORT SALES AND WITH WHICH SHORT SALES MAY BE EXECUTED

(Title am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008)

Art. 8. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) Financial instruments, which may serve as collateral in the execution of margin purchases and short sales and with which short sales may be executed on the territory of the Republic of Bulgaria, shall be financial instruments, admitted to trading on a regulated market, which during the last 20 sessions of the regulated market meet simultaneously the following requirements:

1. transactions in them have been concluded during at least 15 sessions of the regulated market;
2. the minimum average daily amount of financial instruments, in which transactions have been concluded on the regulated market is not less than 5 000;
3. the average daily number of concluded transactions on the regulated market is not less than 30;
4. the product of the number of financial instruments from a given issue and the price of closing for the last day of trading with this financial instrument on the regulated market is not less than BGN 20 000 000.

(2) The transaction subject to block trade, repo transactions, transactions under registration agency and transactions on privatization market shall not be considered concluded on a regulated market.

(3) Within the scope of para 1 item 2, 3 and 4 shall not fall the transactions concluded by the investment intermediary when it has acted as a market maker of the issue of financial instruments.

(4) In the cases where the financial instruments under para 1 are shares, the free float shall be not less than 15% of the issue.

Art. 9. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The regulated market may establish additional requirements to the financial instruments, subject of margin purchases and short sales as well as more stringent requirements than those, provided for in art. 8, para 1, if this is necessary for ensuring the stability of the market in financial instruments and for investor protection.

(2) The regulated market under para 1 shall announce every day, after the closing of the trade session, through its trading system and the stock exchange bulletin as well as in another appropriate way a list of the financial instruments, meeting the requirements under art. 8, para 1, respectively the additional and/or more stringent requirements under para 1, with which short sales may be executed and which may be used as collateral on margin purchases and short sales for the period of the next trading session.

(3) The regulated market shall disseminate according to the procedure under para 2 information on the total amount of the financial instruments of each issue, subject of margin purchases and short sales.

Art. 10. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediaries may not accept as collateral on margin purchases and short sales, as well as execute short sales with financial instruments, which have ceased to meet the requirements under art. 8, para 1, respectively art. 9, para 1.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The settlement of the margin purchases and short sales, concluded on the regulated market before the respective financial instruments have ceased meeting the requirements under art. 8, para 1, respectively art. 9, para 1, shall be executed in accordance with the general procedure. The concluded contracts for lending of financial instruments, which have subsequently ceased to meet the requirements under art. 8, para 1, respectively art. 9, para 1, shall remain in force.

Art. 11. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The Financial Supervision Commission may impose restrictions and prohibitions for execution of margin purchases and short sales in particular kinds or issues of financial instruments, if this is necessary for ensuring the stability of the securities market or for the investor protection.

Chapter Three

CONDITIONS AND PROCEDURE FOR EXECUTION OF MARGIN PURCHASES

Section I

General Requirements

Art. 12. The monies, which the investment intermediary lends to its clients for execution of margin purchases, may have as source only:

3. monies of clients, accounted on accounts for short sales up to the extent, to which they are deemed to be collateral according to art. 29.

Art. 13. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary shall execute margin purchases on the basis of a written contract with the client for execution of margin purchases, concluded in accordance with the procedure under art. 24 of Ordinance No 38 of 2007 on the requirements to the activity of the investment intermediaries (SG, iss. 67 in 2007) (Ordinance No 38).

(2) Before signing of the contract under para 1 the investment intermediary shall be obliged to provide the client with a written explanation on the mechanism for execution of margin purchases and the risks, related to them. The client shall certify in writing of having received the information under sentence one.

(3) Before signing the contract under para 1 the investment intermediary shall require from the client to provide it with information about his financial situation with content according Art. 19 para 4 of Ordinance No. 38. On the basis of the information according sentence one, the investment intermediary shall determine the maximum amount of the liability of any client under a loan for margin purchases.

(4) The investment intermediary shall calculate capital requirement for credit risk on provided loans for margin purchases in compliance with the requirements of Ordinance No. 35.

(5) The total amount of the loan for execution of margin purchases, provided to one person, or to a group of related clients, within the meaning of item 25 of the Additional Provisions of Ordinance No. 35 may not exceed 25% of the investment intermediary's own funds, determined according Chapter Three of Ordinance No. 35.

Art. 14. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The investment intermediary shall open:

a) and keep with itself a separate account for margin purchases of every client executing margin purchases;

b) in a depository institution a separate margin account for financial instruments of every client, on which shall be kept the financial instruments provided by the client in fulfillment of the initial and maintaining margin requirements;

c) in a depository institution a separate cash account for margin purchases, on which shall be accounted the cash of the investment intermediary's clients, provided in connection with the execution of the margin purchases.

(2) The investment intermediary shall account on the client's account according para 1 point "a" the provided cash and financial instruments by the client in fulfillment of the initial and maintaining margin requirements and its claims from the margin loans, granted to the client.

(3) The account for margin purchases under para 1 point "a" shall also contain information on the number of financial instruments from each issue, which have been deposited by the client in compliance with the initial or the maintaining margin requirements as well as information on the liabilities to the client in connection with the use of financial instruments accounted on the account for margin purchases according art. 5.

Art. 15. (1) (Prev. text of art. 15, am. – SG, iss. 45 from 2008) The financial instruments, accounted on the account for margin purchases, shall be deemed to be collateral in favour of the investment intermediary regarding the loan, granted to the client up to the extent of the maintaining margin requirement under art. 17.

(2) (New – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) In the cases when the financial instruments subject of a margin purchase do not serve as collateral on the margin loan, the settlement of the margin purchase shall be performed by transfer of the financial instruments on account at the depository institution, indicated by the client, other than the margin account according Art. 14 para 1 point "b".

Section II

Specific Requirements for Execution of Margin Purchases

Art. 16. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) A client, who has submitted an order for a margin purchase of financial instruments which satisfy the requirements of art. 8 para 1, or art. 9 para 1, and for which it is envisaged in the contract to serve as collateral on the margin loan, shall be obliged to meet the initial margin requirement under para 2 on the day of the order submission and till the settlement day of the concluded transaction.

(2) Initial margin requirement shall be the obligation of the client to provide the investment intermediary with a deposit to the value according to para 3, which may consist of:

1. monies;
2. debt securities, issued or guaranteed by the Bulgarian state, which have market value;
3. financial instruments, meeting the requirements under art. 8, para 1, respectively art. 9, para 1;

4. any combination under items 1, 2 and 3.

(3) If the initial margin requirement is complied within in cash, the deposit under para 2 shall be in amount not less than 50 per cent of the value of each particular margin purchase.

(4) If the initial margin requirement is complied with in financial instruments under para 2 item 2 and/ or 3, the deposit shall be in amount not less than 100 percent of the value of each particular margin purchase.

(5) If the initial margin requirement is complied with as combination of monies and financial instruments the amount of the deposit in financial instruments, which must be provided, shall be calculated under the following formula:

$$PS = 100\%(MP - M*2),$$

Where:

PS is shall be the current market value of the deposited financial instruments, calculated according to art. 18;

MP – the value of the margin purchase;

M – the deposit in monies.

(6) The initial margin requirement may be met by the client also by available margin surplus according art. 19 para 2 item 1 and/or available surplus at short sales according art. 37 para 3 item 1, if that is agreed between the parties.

(7) The regulated market, where the financial instruments, subject of margin purchases, are admitted to trading as well as the investment intermediary may envisage initial margin requirement, higher than the one under para 3, 4 and 5.

(8) The value of the margin loan, granted by the investment intermediary to a client for each particular margin purchase, shall be the difference between the value of the margin purchase and the amount of the client's pecuniary deposit under para 2, item 1.

(9) The total amount of the margin loan of the client shall be the sum owed of all margin loans under para 8.

(10) If the client does not meet the initial margin requirement upon submission of the order for execution of the margin purchase, the investment intermediary shall not execute the order.

Art. 16a. (New – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) In cases other than those under art. 16 para 1, a client who has submitted an order for execution of a margin purchase, shall be obligated on the day of the order submission to meet initial margin requirement in amount of 200 per cent of the total amount of the margin loan. Art. 16 shall apply accordingly.

Art. 17. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) A client, to whom an account for margin purchases has been opened, shall be obliged to meet the maintaining margin requirement every day since the settlement date of the margin purchase.

(2) Maintaining margin requirement shall be the obligation of the client to maintain with the investment intermediary collateral under para 3 to the value of not less than 125 percent of the total amount of the margin loan.

(3) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Collateral for the margin loan may be only financial instruments under art. 16 para 2 item 2 and/ or 3. The financial instruments of sentence one shall be accounted on an account for margin purchases of the client under art. 14 para 1 point “b”.

(4) (New – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If the current market value of the financial instruments under para 3, calculated according to art. 18, is lower than the maintaining margin requirement, the surplus on the account for short sales according to art. 37, para 2, if such exists, may be transferred to be collateral for the margin loan, if that is agreed in the contract.

(5) (Prev. para 4, am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The regulated market, where the financial instruments, subject of margin purchases, are admitted to trading as well as the investment intermediary may envisage maintaining margin requirement, higher than the one determined under para 2.

(6) (Prev. para 5, am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The client may order the investment intermediary to transfer the surplus on the account for short sales if the client has such, to his account for margin purchases for the purpose of reduction of the total amount of the margin loan of the client.

Art. 18. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary shall make day-to-day revaluation of the financial instruments, accounted on the account for margin purchases as well as of the financial instruments, subject of margin purchases, whose settlement has not been executed, in the cases when it is envisaged they to serve as collateral of the margin loan. The revaluation of the financial instruments shall be made according to market price.

Art. 19. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The investment intermediary shall not have right to allow the client to increase the total amount of the margin loan by drawing monies as well as to dispose of financial instruments, which are collateral for the margin loan (restriction of the account for margin purchases), if as result of this the market value of the collateral for the margin loan, calculated according to art. 18, will fall below 200 percent of the total amount of the margin loan.

(2) The client shall have right to use his margin surplus:

1. in order to meet an initial or maintaining margin requirement and/or an initial or maintaining requirement for short sales according to art. 34; or
2. to dispose in another way of financial instruments, accounted on his account for margin purchases, or to increase the total amount of the margin loan by drawing monies.

(3) Margin surplus shall be the difference between the value of the financial instruments which serve as collateral for the margin loan, calculated according to art. 18, and 200 percent of the total amount of the margin loan.

Art. 20. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If margin deficit occurs the investment intermediary shall not have right to execute new orders for margin purchases and shall be obliged till the end of the working day to notify the client that within two working days he must cover the margin deficit by depositing with the investment intermediary:

1. monies, with which to pay the necessary part of the margin loan; and/or
2. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) additional collateral in financial instruments under art. 16, para 2, item 2 and/or 3.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Margin deficit shall exist when the market value of the collateral for the margin loan, calculated according to art. 18, is less than the maintaining margin requirement under art.17 para 2.

Art. 21. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) If the client does not cover the margin deficit under art. 20, para 1, the investment intermediary shall sell a respective quantity of financial instruments on the account for margin purchases, necessary for covering the deficit by the day of the sale.

(2) In case the value of the collateral of the margin loan is recovered within the term of Art. 20 para 1 to the required amount under art. 17 para 2 before the covering of the margin deficit by the client, the intermediary shall notify the client of it.

(3) In case that the amount of the collateral on the account for margin purchases falls below 115 per cent of the total amount of the margin loan, the investment intermediary has the right, before the expiration of the term under art. 20 para 1, to sell financial instruments on the account for margin purchases, to cover the deficit on the day of sale, according para 1, if that is necessary for prevention of greater losses for the investment intermediary and/ or the client.

(4) The investment intermediary shall sell financial instruments in the cases according to para 1 and 3 under conditions and procedure determined in the contract for execution of margin purchases.

(5) In the case under para 1 the investment intermediary shall have right to refuse execution of the submitted orders of the client for concluding margin purchases and short sales as well as to terminate the contract for execution of margin purchases.

Art. 22. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The contract for execution of margin purchases shall be concluded with a term and the client shall be obliged to return the margin loan upon expiration of the contract's term.

(2) In case that on the day of expiration of the contract according to para 1, the client fails to repay the loan granted for execution of margin purchases, the investment intermediary shall have the right to transfer from the account for monies of the client to its own pecuniary account the sum necessary for redemption of the margin loan, as well as to dispose of the collateral in a manner determined in the contract.

(3) In the cases under para 2 the investment intermediary shall realize the collateral by giving an order for sale of the financial instruments used as collateral of the margin loan, on the date of termination of the contract for execution of margin purchases. With the monies received from the sale shall be repaid the client's liability to the intermediary under the margin loan.

(4) The remaining financial instruments on the account for margin purchases and the monies of the client shall be transferred to the account for financial instruments, respectively to the account for monies of the client, kept by the investment intermediary.

Section III Requirements to the Contracts for Execution of Margin Purchases (Title am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008)

Art. 23. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The contracts for execution of margin purchases shall include:

1. information on the increased risk, occurring for the client in connection with the execution of margin purchases, including:

15. indication whether the investment intermediary may compensate its claim under the contract for margin purchases with an adverse claim of the client, ensuing from a contract for execution of short sales between him and the investment intermediary;

16. a clause that the client clearly understands the risks, related to the implementation of the margin purchases.

17. maximum amount of the client's liability to the investment intermediary under the loan granted for margin purchases, determined on the basis of the information under art. 19 para 4 of Ordinance No. 38;

18. term of the contract.

Section IV

Additional Requirements for Accounting Margin Purchases

Art. 24. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The total amount of the margin loan shall be accounted on the debit balance of the account for margin purchases of the client kept by the investment intermediary.

(2) The monies under art. 16 para 2 item 1, deposited by the client on the account for margin purchases in compliance with the initial or the maintaining margin requirements, shall reduce the amount of the margin loan.

(3) The monies under art. 16 para 2 item 1 and the financial instruments under art. 16 para 2 item 2 and 3, deposited by the client in compliance with the initial and maintaining margin requirements shall be transferred to the client's account for margin purchases, or to the client's account for monies at a depository institution and shall be recorded on the credit balance on his account for margin purchases with the intermediary, on the day of depositing.

(4) In the cases when it is agreed between the parties to the contract, the financial instruments which meet the requirements of art. 8, or art. 9 para 1, subject of margin purchase, to serve as collateral of the margin loan, on the day of the settlement of the transaction they shall be transferred to the client's account for margin purchases at the depository institution and shall be recorded on the credit balance on the client's account for margin purchases with the investment intermediary. In cases other than those of sentence one, the financial instruments subject of margin purchase shall be transferred on the day of settlement of the transaction on account of the client at a depository institution, other than his account for margin purchases.

(5) If the amount of the credit balance exceeds 200% of the amount of the debit balance, the excess may be transferred to the account for short sales of the same client, if such exists, if there is deficit on that account and if that is agreed between the parties in the contract. In the other cases the client may dispose of the margin surplus.

Art. 25. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The investment intermediary shall keep daily accounting for each client with an account for margin purchases, which shall contain at least data on:

1. the current (daily) market value of the financial instruments, deposited by the client in compliance with the initial and maintaining margin requirements;
2. the margin surplus under art. 19, para 3, respectively the margin deficit under art.20;
3. the number and the market value of the financial instruments, subject of margin purchases, for which it is envisaged to serve as collateral of the margin loan and whose settlement has not been executed.

Art. 26. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) In the cases where the client has an account for margin purchases and account for short sales with the investment intermediary, it may be envisaged in the contract between them that the investment intermediary shall on a daily basis perform netting of the margin surplus on the account for margin purchases of a client with the deficit on his account for short sales, or the surplus on the account for short sales of a client with the deficit on his account for margin purchases.

(2) The investment intermediary shall maintain data base for each client about:

1. total amount of the collateral of the margin loan;
2. total amount of the initial and maintaining margin requirements;
3. total amount of the margin surplus or deficit.

Chapter four

CONDITIONS AND PROCEDURE FOR EXECUTION OF SHORT SALES

Section I

General Requirements

Art. 27. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The investment intermediary shall execute short sales for the account of a client on the basis of a written contract for execution of short sales, concluded in accordance with the procedure under art. 24 of Ordinance No 38. By the contract for execution of short sales the investment intermediary shall undertake to supply the financial instruments, necessary for implementing the settlement of the short sales.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Before signing of the contract under para 1 the investment intermediary shall be obliged to provide the client with a written explanation on the mechanism for execution of the short sales and the risks, related to them.

Art. 28. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The investment intermediary shall:

- a) open and keep with itself a separate account for short sales to each client, who executes short sales;
- b) open at a depository institution a separate account for short sales of each client, on which shall be kept the financial instruments, furnished in compliance with the initial and maintaining requirements for the short sales;
- c) open at a depository institution a separate monies account for short sales, on which shall be accounted the provided by clients monies in connection with execution of short sales as well as monies received from the executed short sales.

(2) The investment intermediary shall account on the account for short sales of the client under para 1 point “a” the monies and financial instruments provided by the client in meeting initial and maintaining requirement, the monies from the short sale and its claim from the provided securities, subject to a short sale.

(3) The client account for short sales of the client under para 1 point “a” shall also contain information on the number of financial instruments from each issue, subject of short sale, executed for the account of the client (financial instruments at short positions), on the number of financial instruments provided in connection with meeting initial and maintaining requirement for short sales as well as information on the obligations to the client in connection with the use of financial instruments accounted on the account for short sales according art. 5.

Art. 29. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The monies and financial instruments, accounted on the account for short sales of the client with the investment intermediary, shall be deemed to be collateral in favour of the investment intermediary for the financial instruments, subject of short sale, up to the extent of the maintaining requirement under art. 35.

Art. 30. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Order for short sale shall be executed on a regulated market in the Republic of Bulgaria only at price, which is:

1. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) higher than the price of the last concluded transaction in the financial instruments, announced through the trading system as well as higher than the price at opening of the current session of the regulated market; or

2. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) equal to the price of the last concluded transaction in the financial instruments, but higher than the last different price of concluded transaction in the financial instruments, announced through the trading system, as well as higher than the price at opening of the current session of the regulated market.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The requirement under para 1 shall not apply if the investment intermediary acts as market-maker of the issue and this is provided for in the rules of the regulated market.

Art. 31. (Canceled – SG, iss. 45 in 2008)

Art. 32. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary shall introduce an order for short sale on the regulated market only under the condition that it will be able to supply the financial instruments, subject of short sale, including in the cases when they are available on his account or on the sub-account of its client, who has an account for margin purchases as well as if it has concluded a contract for lending of financial instruments.

Art. 33. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The seller in a short sale shall be obliged to provide the lender of the financial instruments, respectively the investment intermediary or its clients who have accounts for margin purchases, or whose financial instruments have been used at the settlement of the short sales, with compensation for non-exercising of the rights attaching to the financial instruments – subject of short sale, under the conditions and procedure of the contract under art. 27 para 1, respectively the contract for lending.

(2) The obligation under para 1 shall be fulfilled through the investment intermediary, through which the short sale is executed.

Section II

Specific Requirements for Execution of Short Sales

Art. 34. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) A client, who has submitted an order for short sale, shall be obliged to meet the initial requirement for short sale under para 2 on the day of the submission of the order to the investment intermediary and till the day for settlement of the short sale.

(2) Initial requirement for short sale shall be the obligation of the client to provide the investment intermediary with a deposit under para 3 to the value of not less than 50 percent of the value of the short sale.

(3) The deposit under para 2 may consist of:

1. monies;
2. debt securities, issued or guaranteed by the Bulgarian state, which have market value;
3. financial instruments under art. 8, para 1, respectively art. 9, para 1;
4. any combination under items 1, 2 and 3.

(4) The initial requirement for short sale may be met by the client also by existing surplus at short sales according to art. 37, para 2 and/or margin surplus according to art. 19, para 2, item 1 if this is provided for in the contract between the parties.

(5) The regulated market, where the financial instruments, subject of short sales, are admitted to trading as well as the investment intermediary may provide initial requirement for short sale, higher than the one under para 2.

(6) If the client does not meet the initial requirement for short sale on the day of submission of the order, the investment intermediary shall not execute the order.

Art. 35. (1) (Suppl. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) A client, to whom an account for short sales has been opened, shall be obliged to meet the maintaining requirement for short sales every day since the date of settlement of the transaction.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Maintaining requirement for short sales shall be the obligation of the client to maintain with the investment intermediary collateral under para 3 to the value of not less than 130 percent of the current market value of the financial instruments, subject of short sale, calculated according to art. 36.

(3) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Collateral for the short sale shall be the monies, received from the short sale as well as the other monies and financial instruments, accounted on the account for short sales of the client. If the monies and financial instruments, accounted on the account for short sales, are in amount, lower than the maintaining requirement for short sales and the client has an open account for margin purchases with the investment intermediary, on which margin surplus exists according to art. 19, para 3, it may serve as collateral for the short sales, if that is provided for in the contract.

(4) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The regulated market, where the financial instruments, subject of short sales, are admitted to trading as well as the investment intermediary may provide maintaining requirement for short sales, higher than the one determined under para 2.

Art. 36. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary shall make day-to-day revaluation of the financial instruments, accounted on the account for short sales, as well as of the financial instruments, subject of short sale, whose settlement has not been executed. The revaluation of the financial instruments shall be made according to market price.

Art. 37. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The investment intermediary shall not have right to allow the client to dispose of monies and financial instruments, accounted on the account for short sales (restriction of the account for short sales), if as result of this the value of the collateral for the short sales will fall below 150 percent of the current market value of the financial instruments, subject of short sales, calculated according to art. 36.

(2) If the client has an open account for margin purchases with the investment intermediary and this is agreed between the parties, the surplus at short sales of the client may serve for covering the maintaining margin requirement under art. 17, para 3, when this is necessary. In the other cases the client shall have right to use his surplus at short sales:

1. transferring financial instruments accounted on his account for short sales, including meeting initial margin requirement under art. 16 and/ or initial requirement for short sales under art. 34; or

2. disposing of monies, accounted on the account for short sales.

(3) Surplus at short sales shall be the difference between the amount of the monies and the value of the financial instruments, accounted on the account for short sales, and 150 percent of the current market value of the financial instruments, subject of short sales, calculated according to art. 36.

Art. 38. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If deficit at short sales occurs the investment intermediary shall not have right to execute new orders of the client for short sales and shall be obliged till the end of the working day to notify the client, that within one working day he must cover the deficit at the short sales by:

1. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) depositing with the investment intermediary additional collateral in money and/or securities under art. 34, para 3; and/or

2. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) purchasing the necessary number of financial instruments, subject of the short sale.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Deficit at short sales shall exist when the value of the collateral for the financial instruments, subject of short sale, is lower than the maintaining requirement under art. 35 para 2.

Art. 39. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If the client does not cover the deficit at short sales under art. 38, para 1, the investment intermediary shall purchase the necessary number of the financial instruments, subject of short sale, executed for the account of the client, for covering the deficit by the day of the purchase. The investment intermediary shall execute the purchases under the previous sentence with the monies on the account for short sales of the client.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) In case the value of the collateral on the account for short sales falls below 120 percent of the current market value of the financial instruments, subject of short sales, calculated according to art. 36, the investment intermediary shall have right to purchase financial instruments according to para 1 before expiration of the term of one working day if this is necessary for preventing bigger losses for the investment intermediary and/or the client.

(3) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) In the case under para 1 the investment intermediary shall have right to refuse the execution of the submitted orders of the client for concluding short sales as well as to terminate the contract for execution of short sales.

Art. 40. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The contract for execution of short sales shall be concluded with a definite term and the client shall be obliged to return also upon request the financial instruments, subject of the short sale.

(2) In case the investment intermediary must return the financial instruments, which he has used from an account for margin purchases of a client for execution of a short sale and it may not use other financial instruments in order to fulfill its obligation, it shall give an order for purchase of these financial instruments at the first session of the regulated market after the obligation for returning the financial instruments becomes exigible.

(3) If the obligation for returning the financial instruments under para 2 relates to financial instruments, subject of short sale, executed for the account of a client, the investment intermediary shall pay these financial instruments with the monies, accounted on the account for short sales of this client. The investment intermediary shall be obliged to notify the client of the purchase of the financial instruments under conditions and, in accordance with procedure provided for in the contract for execution of short sales.

Art. 41. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) At termination of the contract for execution of short sales the investment intermediary shall give an order for purchase of the financial instruments, with which short sale has been executed, at the first session of the regulated market after termination of the contract. At termination of the contract for execution of short sales the investment intermediary shall have the rights under art. 40, para 3.

(2) The remaining monies and financial instruments of the client, accounted on his account for short sales after purchase of the financial instruments under para 1 and the closing of the account, shall be transferred to the relevant pecuniary account of the client, kept by the investment intermediary.

Section III. Requirements to the Contracts for Execution of Short Sales (Title am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008)

3. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the admissible kinds of collaterals and the minimum amount of the collateral for the loan of financial instruments;

4. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the term for the supply of the borrowed financial instruments and the collateral and the right of the borrower of the financial instruments, if such is provided, to change the collateral;

5. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) in the cases when subject of the contract are securities - a clause that the lender of the securities loses the possibility to exercise the right to vote under the securities until they are not returned to him;

6. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the way and the procedure for furnishing of compensation for non-exercising of the rights attaching to the financial instruments - amount of money, equal to the paid dividend and the other payments under art. 53, para 1 and 2;

7. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the right of the lender of the financial instruments to use the pecuniary collateral for the loan of financial instruments and his responsibility for the losses, ensuing from this use;

8. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) description of the way of revaluation under art. 52 and the ways for notification of the borrower of the financial instruments of the furnishing of additional collateral;

9. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the right of the borrower of the financial instruments to use the surplus from the collateral;

10. (Am. and suppl. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the grounds and the procedure for amendment and termination of the contract for lending of financial instruments;

11. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the rights of the lender of the financial instruments under art. 55 and the rights of the borrower under art. 56;

12. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the conditions and procedure for returning of the financial instruments upon request of the lender;

13. (New – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) term of the contract.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The contract for lending under para 1 may contain a clause that the financial instruments, subject of each loan, the collateral for it as well as the remuneration of the lender under art. 51, para 1, respectively of the borrower under art. 51, para 2, shall be determined in additional agreements.

Art. 47. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary, which keeps accounts for financial instruments of clients, wishing to lend financial instruments, may be defined as their agent under art. 4, para 4. The contract between the client and the investment intermediary agent shall be with the following minimum content:

1. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) the obligation of the agent of the lender to revalue daily according to the market the lent financial instruments and the received non-pecuniary collateral, as well as upon need to require additional collateral from the borrower;

2. the obligation of the agent of the lender to follow the payment of dividend and other payments for the lent securities and to ensure their furnishing to the lender by the borrower.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary may borrow financial instruments from a client, with whom it has concluded contract under para 1. In this case the contract for lending of financial instruments shall be signed by the client as lender and the investment intermediary as borrower.

Art. 48. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The lender of financial instruments shall be obliged to transfer according to art. 4, para 1 the lent financial instruments and to order to the depository institution to enter the borrower, respectively the buyer in short sale as their owner according to the instructions of the borrower.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The orders to the depository institution under para 1 should contain a special indication, that the transfer of the financial instruments is in connection with lending them. The previous sentence shall also apply to the orders to the depository institution about returning of the borrowed financial instruments.

Art. 49. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The loan of financial instruments may be secured with:

1. monies; or
2. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) debt securities, issued or guaranteed by the Bulgarian state, which have market value.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Till the day, on which the lent financial instruments are transferred the investment intermediary borrower shall be obliged to transfer the pecuniary collateral under para 1, item 1 to an account for monies at a depository institution, pointed out by the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of lender under art. 4, para 4. If the investment intermediary borrower acts simultaneously also as agent under art. 4, para 4 of its client, the pecuniary collateral under para 1, item 1 shall be transferred from the account of the investment intermediary, determined for its own monies, to the account of the investment intermediary, determined for monies of clients, unless otherwise provided for in the contract for lending of financial instruments.

(3) The investment intermediary borrower shall transfer to the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, the non-pecuniary collateral under para 1, item 2, applying respectively the conditions under para 2.

(4) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The value of the collateral under para 1 must at any time be at least 100 percent of the market value of the borrowed financial instruments.

Art. 50. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The lender of the financial instruments shall have right to use the pecuniary collateral under art. 49, para 1, item 1.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The lender may not use the non-pecuniary collateral under art. 49, para 1, item 2 except for satisfaction of claims, ensuing from the contract for lending of financial instruments.

(3) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The losses in result of unsuccessful investing or use in another way of the pecuniary collateral under para 1 shall be for the account of the lender of the financial instruments.

Art. 51. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) When furnishing non-pecuniary collateral under art. 49, para 1, item 2 the investment intermediary borrower shall pay to the lender of the financial instruments remuneration, if this is provided for in the contract for lending of financial instruments.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) When it has received pecuniary collateral, the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, shall pay to the borrower of the financial instruments remuneration, if this is provided for in the contract for lending of financial instruments.

Art. 51a (New – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) An investment intermediary which acts as agent for account of clients on the ground of a contract under art. 47 shall open and keep with itself separately for each client an account, on which it shall account the lent financial instruments and the monies and/ or the financial instruments provided as collateral for the loan according art. 49.

Art. 52. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary borrower as well as the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, shall make day-to-day revaluation of the financial instruments, subject of contract for lending, as well as of the non-pecuniary collateral under art. 49, para 1, item 2, if such has been furnished, for the purpose of establishing the compliance of the collateral with the requirements under art. 49, para 4. The revaluation of the lent financial instruments shall be made according to market prices.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If the market value of the lent financial instruments rises and/or the market value of the nonpecuniary collateral under art. 49, para 1, item 2 falls so that the current value of the collateral falls below 100 percent of the current market value of the lent financial instruments, the investment intermediary borrower shall be obliged not later than the end of the following working day to transfer to the respective account of the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, the necessary additional collateral.

(3) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If the market value of the lent financial instruments falls and/or the market value of the nonpecuniary collateral rises so that the current value of the collateral exceeds 100 percent of the current market value of the lent financial instruments, the investment intermediary borrower shall have right to receive the surplus of the collateral.

Art. 53. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) Till the termination of the contract for lending of the financial instruments the lender shall have right to receive from the investment intermediary borrower compensation in relation to the rights attaching to the lent financial instruments under the conditions and in accordance with the procedure provided for in the contract for lending of financial instruments.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary borrower shall have right to receive from the lender of the financial instruments an amount of money, equal to the claim for interest in connection with the furnished non-pecuniary collateral.

(3) The lender of securities may not exercise the voting right attaching to the lent securities until they are not returned to him.

Art. 54. (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) (1) The contract for lending of financial instruments shall be concluded with a term and the investment intermediary borrower shall be obliged to return also upon request the borrowed financial instruments.

(2) The investment intermediary borrower till the end of the following working day after expiration of the contract's term, or till the end of the following working day after receiving the notification whereby returning of the lent financial instruments is requested, shall give order to the depository institution to enter as owner of the lent financial instruments their lender.

(3) The contract for lending of financial instruments shall be disaffirmed by the right party if the investment intermediary borrower does not furnish additional collateral according to art. 52, para 2 or an amount of money, equal to the payments under art. 53, para 1, respectively in case the investment intermediary lender or agent of the lender does not return the surplus from the collateral according to art. 52, para 3 or does not furnish an amount of money under art.53, para 2.

Art. 55. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If the investment intermediary borrower does not fulfill its obligation under art. 54, para 2 and does not return the financial instruments on time the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, shall have right to purchase the lent financial instruments with the monies, received as collateral, respectively with the revenues from the sale of the nonpecuniary collateral.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) In case the price of the lent financial instruments under para 1 together with the other expenses, connected with the purchase, exceeds the amount of the collateral, the investment intermediary borrower shall be obliged to pay to the lender the difference together with the agreed in the contract interest on it.

(3) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, may use the collateral according to para 1 also for its other claims, ensuing from the contract for lending of financial instruments, including for the payments under art. 53, para 1.

(4) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The lender of the financial instruments shall be obliged to return to the investment intermediary borrower the remaining part of the collateral.

Art. 56. (1) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) The investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, shall be obliged when the contract for lending is disaffirmed due to his fault, till the end of the following working day after receiving the notification for disaffirming of the contract to order to the respective depository institution the returning of the received collateral.

(2) (Am. – SG, iss. 45 in 2008) If the investment intermediary lender, respectively agent of the lender, does not fulfill its obligation under para 1 and does not return on time the received collateral, the investment intermediary borrower shall have right to sell the necessary number of the borrowed financial instruments and to withhold the monies from the sale in amount of the value of the collateral.
